How to play

Four different boards | 16 caller cards | four in a row

Prepare the matching set

Print the four boards on pages 2-5. Give every player a different numbered board.

Print the caller page once (page 6). Cut apart the 16 cards on their solid borders.

Use reusable counters, small coins or pencil marks. This 4x4 game has no FREE space.

Keep these 16 caller pictures with these boards; the 30-board game uses a different set.

Call and mark

Shuffle all 16 caller cards. Draw one card at a time without replacement.

Show its picture and read its label. Players mark the same picture on their board.

Keep drawn cards visible so everyone can check a claimed winning row.

Check four in a row

The first player to cover four in a row, across, down or diagonally, calls BINGO.

Verify all four pictures in that row against the visible drawn cards before naming a winner.

Players who finish on the same call share the win.

Reset for another round

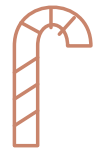

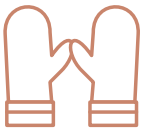

Clear all counters or use a fresh copy if boards have pencil marks.

Gather all 16 caller cards, reshuffle them, and begin with every square unmarked.
